Waqf Management Practices in Malaysian Waqf Institutions

Muhammad Iqmal Hisham Kamaruddin, Mustafa Mohd Hanefah and Rosnia Masruki

Purpose– This study examines in-depth the current waqf management practices in Malaysian waqf institutions.

Design/methodology/approach– This study applies an explanatory case study method to analyse waqf management practices. To collect data, the study employs a focus group discussion method. For reporting purposes, this study adopted a single-case study method.

Findings– This study analyses and discusses four dimensions of current waqf management practices: (i) waqf governance practices; (ii) waqf application practices; (iii) waqf monitoring practices; and (iv) waqf reporting practices.

Research limitations/implications– Despite examining and exploring in-depth the waqf management practices in selected waqf institutions in Malaysia, the sample size was small.

Originality/value– This study is among the few studies that examine and explore waqf management practices, specifically waqf governance, waqf application, waqf monitoring and waqf reporting in waqf institutions in Malaysia.

Keyword: waqf, waqf management, waqf governance, waqf application, waqf monitoring, waqf reporting.
